INVITATION TO JOIN THE ISSMGE CORPORATE ASSOCIATES PRESIDENTIAL GROUP

We invite your organization to join the International Society of Soil Mechanics and Geotechnical Engineering (ISSMGE) as a member of its Corporate Associates Presidential Group (CAPG).

ISSMGE is the oldest and largest society representing geotechnical engineers worldwide, founded by the father of modern geotechnics, Karl Terzaghi. It is the leading global society representing geotechnical professionals, comprising National Geotechnical Societies and Corporate Associates from industry.

Since 2025, ISSMGE has over 90 National Member Societies, more than 20,000 individual members, and over 50 Corporate Associates. We aim to encourage geotechnical industry companies to join CAPG and engage with the International Society's community and activities.

CAPG members include corporations, consultancies, contractors, research institutions, equipment suppliers, and product manufacturers from the geotechnical industry. As a Corporate Associate, your company representative can:

- Participate in ISSMGE's Board-level committee, CAPG, alongside industry leaders and foster closer interaction between practitioners and academics, identify research topics, translate research into practice, and provide feedback to researchers.
- Influence the geotechnical industry by creating and managing technical platforms at conferences or on ISSMGE website to address important issues in geotechnical practice.
- Interact directly with ISSMGE Board members, including the President.
- Interact with Technical Committees.
- Become eligible for ISSMGE awards.

ISSMGE offers substantial promotional benefits for CAPG members, including:

- Negotiated Early Bird registration fees and priority booth selection at conferences organized under the auspices of ISSMGE.
- Recognition by the ISSMGE President during the opening ceremony at conferences organized under the auspices of ISSMGE.
- A dedicated webpage and prominent placement of your organization's logo on the ISSMGE website to showcase services, share unique experiences, and promote contributions to
