

International Society for Soil Mechanics and Geotechnical Engineering

Société Internationale de Mécanique des Sols et de la Géotechnique

ISSMGE CORPORATE ASSOCIATES

The ISSMGE invites you to join our geotechnical community as a Corporate Associate. As a professional society, we are actively seeking the participation of leading corporations, consultancies, contractors, research institutions, equipment specialists, and product manufacturers. Your participation ensures our profession's continuing advancement through balanced contribution from all sectors.

Corporate Associates can participate and influence the direction and future of the ISSMGE, with focus on the needs of the commercial sector of the geotechnical engineering profession. Corporate Associates can:

1. Participate in the Board-level committee, Corporate Associates Presidential Group (CAPG), alongside leaders in the industry;
2. Foster closer interaction between practitioners and academics, identify research topics and translate relevant research into practice;
3. Influence the construction industry through successful creation and management of technical platforms that address important issues in geotechnical practice;
4. Have direct interaction with all the Board members of the ISSMGE, including the President.

Members of Corporate Associates may be invited to join technical committees.

In addition, the ISSMGE provides substantial direct promotional benefits for your company through:

1. Recognition of the Corporate Associates in the opening ceremony speeches by the ISSMGE President at ISSMGE-sponsored conferences
2. Dedicated page of the ISSMGE Bulletin for your company's advertisement and recruitment, at no cost, at reasonable intervals. The bulletin is distributed six times a year through 90 member societies around the world, that have altogether about 20,000 individual members
3. Prominent placement of the company logo and website on the home page of the ISSMGE web site
4. Dedicated space on the ISSMGE website for Corporate Associates, please refer to this link, <http://www.issmge.org/corporate-associates/listing>.

To become a Corporate Associate is simple, and can be effected by downloading and completing the one-page Corporate Associates' Registration Form. An annual fee of US$1,500 is payable on a calendar year basis.

The commitment of Corporate Associates is of immense value to the Society and your financial contributions support non-administrative activities including education, young geotechnical engineers' conferences, technology transfer, and lecture tours. In addition to being a Corporate Associate, a company or an individual can donate directly to the ISSMGE Foundation which has been set up to assist the geotechnical profession in developing countries. More information on the Foundation can be found at <http://www.issmge.org/en/issmge-foundation>.
